SCALE COVERED DAUGHTER'S FACE

And Head. Thought She Would Lose Eyesight. Itched Continually. Disfigured Terribly.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"When my daughter was four weeks old, she had a dreadful scale which covered her face and head, and we thought for a time she would lose her eyesight. At first the skin was inflamed, and it itched continually and she could not sleep day or night. At last little red pimples with fostered heads appeared and where the pimples had been, there would appear a horrid scale. It disfigured her terribly.

"Then I thought I would try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After the third application we could see a marked improvement, and in a short time she was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Geo. Paddock, New Canaan, Conn., July 24, 1915.

SPECIAL PRIMARIES IN MAINE.

Will Be Held Early Next Month to Choose Successor to Burleigh.

Portland, Me., June 23.—For the purpose of filling the vacancy caused by the death of United States Senator Edwin C. Burleigh, whose term would have expired in 1919, a special primary early next month will be called by Governor Curtis.

Ira G. Hersey of Houlton, president of the Maine Senate, who, according to unofficial returns, ran second for the Republican nomination for United States Senator in the state primaries last Monday, yesterday announced that he would be a candidate. Political leaders at Augusta were authority for the statement that former Governors Bert M. Fernald and William T. Cobb and Congressman John A. Peters would not oppose his candidacy.

A movement was started here yesterday by friends of Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary to have him enter the contest as a Republican candidate.

SAYS GERMANY CANNOT WIN

Swedish Trade Journal Declares Food Question Will Decide the War

VERDUN ASSAULT CAUSED BY SHORTAGE

Warns Swedes to Realize That Central Powers Will Be Losers

Stockholm, via London, June 23.—The Swedish trade journal Affarsvarlden, representing the best business interests in Sweden, yesterday printed a remarkable editorial commenting on the war, in which it says: "It is time for the Swedes to realize that the outcome cannot be favorable to the central powers." The food question, says the newspaper, will decide the war, and it declares that the bad situation in Germany is responsible for the "reckless offensive at Verdun and the German attempt to win a naval battle."

"We will not attempt to prophesy on a conclusion of peace," says the article, "but it is important for our business men, irrespective of sympathy or prejudice, not to be too sure of their calculations, as there may be a surprise in store for them. The central powers cannot obtain a peace advantageous to them." Swedish business interests are generally supposed to be friendly to Germany, as for many years trade with that country has outweighed any other and this article in a representative trade journal is regarded here with much interest.

HOLLWEG OPPOSES ANNEXATION.

German Chancellor Announces His Policy as Regards Belgium to Socialists.

Berlin, via London, June 23.—That the imperial chancellor is opposed to the annexation of Belgium and other far-reaching plans of the Pan-German expansionists—a fact which has often been referred to by intimation in these despatches—although the censorship restrictions forbade open discussion of this subject, was flatly announced by the Socialist Philipp Scheideemann in a speech at Breslau on Wednesday night. Herr Scheideemann's statement was based on the chancellor's own declarations to the Socialist leaders and it was made before a great Socialist meeting which has assembled to receive an account and explanation of the attitude of the majority of the Socialists in the Reichstag.

Referring to a recent publication by the Belgian minister of state, Emile Vandervelde, in which the imperial chancellor's policy was described as aiming at the annexation of Belgium and all the occupied French districts, Herr Scheideemann declared:

"Those ascribing to the imperial chancellor's intentions do him a great wrong. I know he has no thought of such plans. When six Pan-German associations a year ago submitted to the chancellor their well known project of conquest, I and several party friends made representations to the chancellor in protest against such plans, and referred to our declaration in the Reichstag of Aug. 4. We heard from the chancellor's own mouth that he wished to have nothing to do with such plans. He rejected them decisively, and most firmly disapproved of them, like all similar plans."

600 NURSES ENROLLED.

Red Cross Placing These and Physicians at Disposal of War Department.

New York, June 23.—Activities of the American Red Cross in preparation for eventualities in Mexico included the placing of physicians and nurses at the disposal of the government as well as plans to forward supplies and gifts from relatives and friends to soldiers on the border. More than 600 nurses have been enrolled in this city, and are available for immediate service. It was announced by Jefferson R. Keen, director general of the military relief department of the Red Cross. Training classes are being conducted. The preliminary training course of five weeks qualifies women to act as aids to nurses in the field.

The Red Cross has prepared a tentative list of articles that may be sent through its agency to the border, and this has been submitted to the war department. The list includes tobacco, games, reading matter and various articles of clothing.

"Why Swear, Dear? Use 'Gets-It' for Corns!"

It's the New Plan—Simple—Sure as Fate—Applied in a Few Seconds

"You Wouldn't Lose Your Temper, John, If You Used 'Gets-It' for Those Corns!" "Gets-It": It's just wonderful how easy, "clear and clean" it makes any corn come right off. Takes but a few seconds to apply. It dries at once. Put your sock on right over it—there's nothing to stick or roll up, form a bundle of your toe, or press on the corn. It's painless, simple as rolling off a log. Now put away those knives, razors and scissors, use "Gets-It" and you'll have a sweeter disposition and no more corns and calluses. "Gets-It" is sold by druggists everywhere. It's a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

NEW JERSEY READY FIRST

National Guard All Mobilized and Prepared to Be Sent to Border

BUT GOV. FIELDER BLAMES WASHINGTON

For Not Providing Sufficient Equipment and Supplies for the Men

Sea Girt, N. J., June 23.—New Jersey claims the distinction of being the first state to have its troops completely mobilized and awaiting further orders from the war department. The last of the organizations called out arrived here on Wednesday night and Governor Fielder was notified by Major-General Leonard Wood, commander of the department of the East, that this was the first state to have its National Guard ready in response to the president's call.

Governor Fielder declared, however, that the federal authorities have not done their share because they have failed to provide sufficient equipment and supplies for the men at the mobilization camp. Had he not been able to obtain tents and supplies from two guard regiments in the state which were not called out, Governor Fielder asserted, many of the guardsmen in camp here would be without shelter.
